Dear Hiring Team,

Remote is hiring a Senior Staff Product Designer to tackle messy, high-visibility problems — patterns before fragmentation, prototypes that prove direction, and craft that scales. I am applying because that is the altitude I want: systems, ambiguity, and raising the bar as an IC.

I am a Senior Product Designer with 10+ years in product and 6+ years fully remote. English C1. Portfolio: <https://neolissa.github.io/polina-tsoy-designer/en/>

- WakeupWarrior (systems that scale), rebuilt UI as a reusable system (35 components, tokens) — -90% styles, ×3 development speed, White Label unlocked.
- DocsBird (ambiguity → shipped), turned a vague 0 → 1 mandate into a launched product across 4 countries — registration 7 → 3 steps, +45% conversion.
- Relaunch (coherence under complexity), unified a fragmented internal ecosystem into one habit loop — ×4 session time, +40% engagement, 100% adoption.

I am honest about level: my title history is Senior/Lead IC, not "Senior Staff" on paper. What I transfer is systems judgment, end-to-end ownership under ambiguity, and designer+engineer delivery. Based in Argentina (ART UTC-3), available anywhere.

Happy to do your async case study on craft + prototyping and walk through WUW / DocsBird / Relaunch with the team.
